SPORTING.

Interport Tennis.

Fine but rather dull weather attended the opening, on June 22, of the tennis matches between Koba and the Hongkong Garrison Team. The Interport Doubles were played at Koba, in the presence of a fair concourse of spectators. Messrs C. J. Lucas and J. M. Morrison beat Captain Beasley and Lt. Byrne by 3 sets to 2, the scores being 6-2; 6-3; 2-6; 4-6; and 6-3. Captain Garnett and Lieut. Baginall defeated Messrs Millward and H. V. Wilkinson by 3 sets to 2. Scores:—6-3; 6-3; 11-9; 7-5; and 10-8.

In the Mixed Doubles—Mrs Beasley and Lieut. Byrne playing for Hongkong and Mrs. Foster and Mr. Morrison for Koba—Koba won each set, the scores being 8-6; 7-5; and 6-4.

At Miramonte play opened at 3 o'clock. The result was:— Capt. Brierley and Lieut. Whyte (Hongkong) beat Messrs Crane and Stephens (Koba), the scores being 7-5; 10-8; 2-6; 4-8; and 8-4.

The Hongkong men and Crane volleyed very well, but Stephens was rather weak in this respect, which may account for the result.

Captain Baird and Lieutenant Satterthwaite (Hongkong) beat Messrs T. D. Wright and J. E. Crane (Koba), the scores being 6-3; 6-2; 6-0.

Captain Baird smashed superbly and Lieutenant Satterthwaite's volleying was some of the best we have ever seen. Wright was quite a little "off colour," but Crane played a good steady game.

Good Shooting.

A remarkable shooting achievement by Petty Officer Owens, of the destroyer Avon, was reported at Plymouth on the arrival there of the destroyer. During battle practice in Brodick Bay, Scotland, when the Avon was steaming at full speed, Owens, firing with a twelve pounder at a target sixteen feet by eight feet, at a range of a thousand yards, made twelve hits in forty-five seconds, firing only twelve shots, this being a world's record.

Open Golf Championship.

J. H. Taylor has won the Open Golf Championship at Deal. He has also won the Golf Championship of France. Last year Taylor won the News of the World Championship which, after the Open Championship, is the biggest professional prize of the year. Taylor was second to Arnold Maury in 1907, he was second to Bradd in 1906, he tied for second place to Bradd in 1904, and so on, always there or thereabouts. With the machine Taylor is generally recognised to have no equal. His feats are many. With Harry Vardon, he beat Bradd and Bird in the famous England v. Scotland Tournament for £250 a side, in a year when Bradd was on the very top of his form.

English Cricket.

In the matches played on June 21, 22 and 24: Middlesex beat Nottingham at Lord's by 178 runs; Lancashire defeated Surrey at the Oval by an innings and 35 runs; Kent beat Gloucestershire at Oxford by an innings and 314 runs; Sussex defeated Cambridge University at Brighton by ten wickets; the matches between Derbyshire and Hampshire at Blackwell, and Leicestershire and Warwickshire at Leicester, were drawn; and that between Yorkshire and the Australians at Bradford was abandoned.

AN AMERICAN NEWSPAPER MAN RECOMMENDS A WELL-KNOWN REMEDY.

NOT long since the following editorial appeared in the Centertown, Missouri, U.S.A., Leader: "The editor knows by personal experience that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy will cure diarrhoea, and we have heard like testimonials from other reliable people in the community. Everyone who has used this remedy has the same to say of it. For sale by all chemists and druggists."

Intimations

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Edinburgh, May 28.

CLERGY, SCOTLAND.

The celebration of the Queen's jubilee centenary in St. Giles' Cathedral, Edinburgh, was marked by a circumstance which will be eloquent to all Scotsmen. For the first time, the General Assembly of the two great Presbyterian Churches suspended their regular business for the purpose of uniting in common worship; fathers and brethren, from their halls on both sides of the Castle Hill, met in the old church which once rang to the trumpet words of John Knox, and sang together, to the tune of Old St. Paul's.

"Pray that Jerusalem may have peace and felicity."

Who could have dreamt a dozen years ago that the power of a single man from across the centuries would have assembled so strange a congregation? Lord Kinnear, the Lord High Commissioner to the Kirk of Scotland, was there; the Lord Provost and Magistrates of the City; the Senators of the University; the ministers and elders of many churches; and when the Moderators of the two Assemblies walked up the long aisle in amity, there arose the memory of the procession along George Street and down to Canonmills, sixty six years ago, at the Disruption, and of that other procession along Finnieston Street to the Waverley Market at the Union of the Dissenters. On this day, however, the voices of excommunication were hushed. None said, "I am greater than you;" for at the centre of the table of the Metropolitan Church of Scotland sat the Moderator of the Voluntary Church, and it was his voice that called the congregation to worship with the "Old Hundredth."

"Know that the Lord is God indeed."

The service was taken part in by men of both Churches, one of the lessons was read by Sir Andrew Fraser, and prayers were read from a printed book, they were "printed prayers."

Many things have startled Presbyterian Scotland of late, but none so much as this service. Only Scots can appreciate its importance. A greater union may be far in the future, but the divisions will never again be so acute. The diverse life are creeping together, the divided streams are flowing towards one river.

One Church, it is to be regretted, was absent—the remnant of the old Free Church, the stern representatives of the Ultras. Calvinism and asceticism have ever been opposed in the Scottish imagination. More of the severity of the Calvinist theologian lingers in the Free Church than anywhere else, yet its members found they could take no part in the joint communion. A few days later they had their own little service.

Little more than a year ago, the Orient Steam Navigation Co. placed orders on the Clyde and the Logan for the five steamships necessary to enable them to carry out the terms of their contract with the Australian Government in the conveyance of mails between the two continents.

The contract extends over the next twelve years, and secures for the Orient

Co. an annual subsidy of £170,000, or a grand total for the whole period of £2,040,000. Of the five vessels, three were entrusted to Clyde builders—the Osewa to Messrs John Brown & Co., Ltd.,

Clydebank; the Osewa to the Fairfield

Shipbuilding and Engineering Co., Ltd.,

Govan; and the Osewa to the London and Glasgow Engineering and Shipbuilding

Co., Govan.

With the Clydebank firm lies the distinction of delivering the first of the quintette to the owners, the Osewa having been launched for the representatives of the Orient Company. The others are being practically sister ships. The Osewa is built for Lloyd's highest class; 552 feet long, with 63 feet 4 inches of beam, 48 feet deep, and of 12,000 tons measurement, with twin sets of quadruple expansion engines. The dominant characteristics are space, air, light, comfort; all matters of great importance on a voyage extending over several weeks, in temperatures varying from that of the British island to that of the tropics. The ship

THE PRINCE OF WALES AND
THE PRINTERS.
One of the oldest charitable institutions connected with the printing profession is that known as the Printers' Pension Alms-house and Orphan Asylum Corporation, which held its first festival in 1828 with Lord John Russell in the chair. Later, at various times, Mr.
Disraeli, Mr. Gladstone, Charles Dickens, Tom Taylor, Dean Stanley, and in 1899, our present Sovereign, presided on the occasion of the annual dinner, while in the present year of grace the PRINCE OF WALES honoured the Corporation by accepting its invitation to take the Chair. Ever since his return from the memorable visit to India the PRINCE OF WALES has been gradually, but very astutely, taking up much of the burden of social work which his Royal father had discharged so successfully during those long, happy years which preceded his accession to the Throne, and the general opinion is that His Royal Highness is following very worthily in the footsteps of the most popular man in the three kingdoms. Certainly he seems to have acquired the happy knack of delivering laudible speeches, pithy, restrained, yet always striking the proper note and making just the right appeal either if heard in person or when read next day in cold, dry print.
Nothing could have been more apposite than his eulogium of the art and craft of printing delivered on the particular occasion under notice. Said his Royal Highness:—"The printer is the invisible friend of all who have written, all who have read. The printing press is the source of the life blood of the civilised world. God's gifts, his pul-sations, and his social, political, and commercial, must inevitably follow. The noble art of printing has been the generous giver of knowledge—religious, scientific, and artistic. It has been the instrument of truth, liberty, and freedom. It has added to the comfort, enrichment, and refinement of life."

NEWS OF THE DAY
The situation in the East is very serious.
Dysentery is prevalent among the inhabitants of Tonkin at present.
The third test match between England and Australia commences at Leeds tomorrow.
The Colonial Secretary's Department notifies that Hongkong has been declared an infected port by Singapore.
Under the distinguished patronage of His Excellency the Governor the Kowloon Cricket Club are giving a promenade concert on Saturday night. The Rajputa band will be in attendance. See advertisement on another page.
M. Davillier, Administrator of the Civil Service of Tonkin, died at Suoi, while on his way home on board the s.s. Euphrate.
The late M. Davillier had been in ill-health for some time past and he was proceeding home to recuperate his health.
Speaking at a luncheon given in London to a large party of members of the Duma, Mr. Asquith said that the attitude of England and America which was formerly a normal characteristic of Anglo-Russian relations, had now passed,—thanks to wise diplomacy founded upon a sound public opinion—and he hoped it never would return.
Regarding the recent incident where Russian warships guarding the Czar's yacht fired on a British steamer which was in charge of a Finnish pilot, a telegram sent to the Osaka Asahi says:—"The British Ambassador at St. Petersburg recognises that the incident has no diplomatic importance and that the Warship Anchorage Regulations, which had been made public justified the action of the Russian officers."
The Government of British North Borneo are offering special inducements to capitalists to start sugar cane growing within their territories. Land up to 3,000 acres will be given free of charge for 5 years; after 5 years a quit rent of 10 cents per acre per annum will be charged; bona fide cultivation must be commenced within three months of selection, and systematically carried out.
A Vancouver newspaper says the report has been current in Japan that the larger steamers of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha line are to be taken off the Pacific run and put on the European line. While these vessels are among the largest and best fitted vessels that cross the ocean they carry very few passengers. Recently the Tango Maru arrived at Victoria with a little over one hundred passengers. This was according to one of the officers, the largest number that has been brought in nearly three years, yet they did not anything like fill her accommodation. The Chinese will not travel on Japanese ships because of the quarrel which originated this boycott. The Europeans and Americans do not care to travel with the Japanese for some unexplained reason. The result is that the large ships will be taken off and smaller boats put on the run, as there is enough business to make them pay while the others do not. It is understood, says the newspaper, that the Tango Maru and Shinano Maru are the vessels proposed to be taken off.

ITEMS AT THE COURTS.
A forest guard charged two cattle dealers at the Magistracy, to-day, with allowing cattle to roam in a plantation at Shatin.
Fines of $7 each were imposed.
A partner in the Sun Wo carpentry firm has reported that between May 1st and June 1st, the accountant collected $600 from different creditors, in the name of the firm, and absconded with the money.
A Chinese woman reports that while she was proceeding from Hothow to Hongkong in the s.s. Carl Dietrichsen she lost or had stolen a draft for $242, which represented the whole of her savings and earnings.
A Chinese boatwoman was found by an Indian watchman burying the body of a newly-born child between the filter beds and the reservoir at Shaukiwan water works. At the Magistracy, to-day, Mr. J. R.
Wood ordered her to pay a fine of $25 or undergo imprisonment for a month.

MACAO NOTES.
It has been edifying to watch the rare activity of our Delimitation Envoys since their arrival here on Saturday last. At 5 a.m. on Sunday morning they were steaming across to the neighbouring islands of Taipa and Coloan. Yesterday they visited Lappa and the intended excursion to Cathay to-day will be the last personal visit to the scenes of bygone events which is to aid them in working up the load of materials they are equipped with. From small talk we are able to glean that the party are not much exercised in mind about the likelihood of untoward hitch-cropping during the forthcoming pourparlers, which we learn are to be carried on throughout in French. On the whole, a most optimistic drift of thought is discernible bearing on the issue of the long vexed grievances. No doubt the question is thorny, but not, we feel believe, bristling with difficulties such as skilful diplomacy could not obviate.
Moreover, we are now concerned with parties whose equitable spirit and enlightened views are above board. Then, also, we are to deal with hard facts unshackled by the ludicrous fiction which that thorn-in-the-flesh, the pseudo-sail-governing Body, has raked every imaginable quarter to conjure up merely to disorder and bias the public mind. The Delegates proceed to Hongkong to-morrow in the gunboat Patric, and are setting themselves forthwith about their task.

civilised world. God's gifts, his pul-
sations, and his social, political, and com-
generous giver of knowledge—religious,
instrument of truth, liberty, and freedom. It has added to the comfort,

One of the oldest charitable institutions
connected with the printing profession
is that known as the Printers' Pension Alms-house and Orphan Asylum Cor-
in 1828 with Lord John Russell in the
chair. Later, at various times, Mr.
Disraeli, Mr. Gladstone, Charles Dickens, Tom Taylor, Dean Stanley, and
on the occasion of the annual dinner,
while in the present year of grace the
the Chair. Ever since his return from
the memorable visit to India the PRINCE
astutely, taking up much of the burden
knack of delivering laudible speeches,
proper note and making just the right
when read next day in cold, dry print.
Nothing could have been more apposite
of printing delivered on the particular
occasion under notice. Said his Royal
visible friend of all who have written,
is the source of the life blood of the
civilised world. God's gifts, his pul-

dom. It has added to the comfort, enrichment, and refinement of life."

SUFFRAGETTES STORM
THE COMMONS.
One hundred and twelve Suffragettes have been arrested for taking part in a violent and abortive raid upon the House of Commons.
A huge crowd which had assembled developed antagonism towards the Suff-ragettes and several were injured.

THE NAVAL INVESTIGA-TION.
The Daily Mail says that the report of the investigation committee, appointed at the request of Lord Charles Ber-ford and others, entirely justifies the Admiralty. It is doubtful whether the report will be published.

WHAT BERLIN EXPECTS.
It is expected in Berlin that Prince von Buelow will resign within a fortnight.

GREECE AND CRETE.
The Porte has instructed its Ambassadors to inform the Powers that it has never ceased to protest against concessions being made to the Cretans under the existing arrangement.
The Porte also warns the Powers that it is unable to accept any proposals for recognizing Greece as having even an indirect interest in Cretan affairs.

THE NEW CHINESE
APPOINTMENTS.
The Prince Regent has directed the Grand Councilors to telegraph to Viceroy Chang, of Canton, ordering him to proceed to his new post at Nanking at once.
H.E. Na Tung has left Peking to take up his new position as Acting Viceroy of Chihli.

CHARGE AGAINST A
TARTAR GENERAL.
F. Ku, the cashiered Tartar General of Mongolia, is reported by the present Tartar General, Shun Kan, to have embezzled no less than 600,000 taels.

PAIN IN THE STOMACH.
It is most annoying, as well as disagreeable, to be troubled with pain in the stomach, and there is no need of it for one dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy will allay the pain. Try it once and be convinced. For salubry all chemists and storekeepers.
